On behalf of Mr. Dinneen, I provide the following answer: Bulletin 17 seems self explanatory. Your questions deal with hypotheticals. Although all personnel matters are handled within the context of the Merit Rules and Regulations, each personnel matter has individual circumstances that influence the situation. -- Dave Byron

Mr. Dinneen:

We (VolusiaExposed.Com) are in receipt of your below attached Bulletin #17 of April 23, 2012.

We are preparing an article for our website, VolusiaExposed.Com, regarding your comments in Bulletin #17. In preparation of the pending article, we do have a few questions of you.

- 1. Please define the term "social media" as used in Bulletin #17. In the particular, does it include, private emails and text messages?
- 2. In regards to providing altered or falsified documents by Volusia County employees, does this include all Volusia County employees, or just a certain classification of employees? Further, are all documents included, ie., both internal and external to county government. Would knowingly submitting falsified documents, to outside agencies, within the scope of an employee's duties be covered as a ethics violation, as outlined in Bulletin #17?

3. Would your office review such ethics complaints, filed by citizens of Volusia County?

We look forward to your response. Absent a response, we shall merely post this email, which clearly indicates our attempt to gain reasonable answers, by the public, from a public servant.

Please use our below email address as our point of contact.

Thank You
