Mr. Lehman

Sir, VolusiaExposed.Com has spent the last two years demanding that Florida law enforcement agencies NOT allow ever changing agency "practices" to supersede Florida Statutes and Administrative Codes in the completion of their sworn duties.

It would now be hypocritical of us(VolusiaExposed.Com), to allow your agency (CJSTC /FDLE), to process our complaint under your "practices", rather than Florida Statutes and Administrative Codes.

Ironically, our complaint against the subject LE agency, identifies concerns that they have fraudulently filed documents with your agency, in violation of Florida Statutes and Administrative Codes.

Empirical evidence would suggest, that such fraudulent actions have become the subject agency's "practice". Sadly, similar evidence suggests that your agency has developed a "practice" of allowing these violations of Florida Statutes and Administrative Codes.

Therefore, we must insist that you process our complaint, not under your agency's ever changing "practices" (as evidence in the fact that we don't need to provide a signature, although it is required in your documented practice), but under the mandates of Florida Statutes and Administrative Codes.

We strongly believe, that given the documentary evidence we have supplied, and IF our complaint is processed under the mandates of Florida Statutes and Administrative Codes, we shall be successful in prevailing upon your office the seriousness of our alleged violations by the subject agency, and their personnel.

As citizens of the State of Florida, we are required to follow the laws, not our individual practices, should we expect less from our government?

Should you have any concerns or questions, please feel free to contact us.

Sincerely,

VX
