- 10. Describe the general nature of your current practice including any certifications which you possess; additionally, if your practice is substantially different from your prior practice or if you are not now practicing law, give details of prior practice. Describe your typical clients or former clients and the problems for which they sought your services.

My current practice focuses primarily on martial and family law. Specifically, my family law practice includes the handling of dissolutions of marriage, paternity establishment, child custody disputes, modifications/post judgment actions, contempt motions and enforcement motions regarding timesharing, child support, alimony, equitable distribution, and more. With family law, there is often a lot of cross over into other courtrooms. Therefore, I have also expanded into dependency, Marchman + Baker Acts, risk protection orders, guardianships, adoptions, and some probate.

The other main area of my practice is criminal defense where my clients include juveniles and adults charged with crimes ranging from misdemeanors to 1st degree felonies punishable by life. My representation of these defendants includes the filing of any motions to suppress, motions to dismiss, taking depositions, plea negotiation and trial. I also handle injunctions, sealing and expungement, traffic tickets and administrative DMV hearings.

I am on the 7th circuit list for Guardian ad Litem work at a reduced or pro bono rate and I have been assigned as GAL in one case thus far.

My practice now is substantially different since I transitioned to private practice in 2021.

I began my legal career as an assistant state attorney where I prosecuted misdemeanor and felony crimes in the various stages of trial posture. My cases included, but were not limited to: DUIs, domestic violence, criminal traffic crimes, felony drug charges, firearms crimes, burglary, aggravated assault with deadly weapon, child abuse, failure to register as sex offender, fleeing and eluding, and financial fraudulent activity.

11. What percentage of your appearance in court in the last five years or in the last five years of practice (include the dates) was:

Court		Area of Practice
Federal Appellate	_____ %	Civil	_____ 5 %
Federal Trial	_____ %	Criminal	_____ 20 %
Federal Other	_____ %	Family	_____ 65 %
State Appellate	_____ %	Probate	_____ 5 %
State Trial	99 %	Other	_____ 5 %
State Administrative	1 %
State Other	_____ %
TOTAL	100 %	TOTAL	100 %

If your appearance in court the last five years is substantially different from your prior practice, please provide a brief explanation:

My appearance in court in the last five years is substantially different from my prior practice since I was previously a felony trial attorney at the State Attorney’s office tasked with the prosecution of criminal defendants. As an ASA, I appeared in court almost daily.

Now, I primarily handle family law clients and have switched to representing criminal defendants as a defense attorney.

12. In your lifetime, how many (number) of the cases that you tried to verdict, judgment, or final decision were:

Jury?	15	Non-jury?	9
Arbitration?	_____	Administrative Bodies?	6
Appellate?	_____

13. Please list every case that you have argued (or substantially participated) in front of the United States Supreme Court, a United States Circuit Court, the Florida Supreme Court, or a Florida

District Court of Appeal, providing the case name, jurisdiction, case number, date of argument, and the name(s), e-mail address(es), and telephone number(s) for opposing appellate counsel. If there is a published opinion, please also include that citation.

N/A

14. Within the last ten years, have you ever been formally reprimanded, sanctioned, demoted, disciplined, placed on probation, suspended, or terminated by an employer or tribunal before which you have appeared? If so, please state the circumstances under which such action was taken, the date(s) such action was taken, the name(s) of any persons who took such action, and the background and resolution of such action.

No.

15. In the last ten years, have you failed to meet any deadline imposed by court order or received notice that you have not complied with substantive requirements of any business or contractual arrangement? If so, please explain full.

No.

16. For your last six cases, which were tried to verdict or handled on appeal, either before a jury, judge, appellate panel, arbitration panel or any other administrative hearing officer, list the names, e-mail addresses, and telephone numbers of the trial/appellate counsel on all sides and court case numbers (include appellate cases). This question is optional for sitting judges who have served five years or more.

This matter started as a Petition for Temporary Custody by Extended Family which was filed by the live-in boyfriend of the children's deceased mother. Upon the death of the children's mother, the children's maternal aunt and maternal grandmother hired an attorney to file for guardianship of the minor children and probate their deceased sister/daughter's property/house. Judge Hudson entered an order appointing guardian of person and property as to both children to the aunt. Unbeknownst to the family, Judge M. Foxman had previously entered an order granting the boyfriend temporary custody of just the minor daughter, though there was also a minor son involved. This gave way to a perplexing legal question as to which order should be followed since there were now two competing orders in place. I was hired by the family to set aside the temporary custody order in the family law case. This matter was further complicated because the daughter wished to remain with the boyfriend but he had no legal right to custody. The boyfriend also had no legal right to remain in the deceased mother's home, where he was living with the minor daughter, but he refused to vacate. The son/brother, turned 18 during the pendency of the case and already been living with the grandmother. He indicated that the boyfriend was abusive and potentially grooming the daughter/sister. The boyfriend did not include the brother, nor did he make the Court aware that the brother existed in his petition for temporary custody, even though he was also a minor at the time. In his petition, the boyfriend claimed he was the only identifiable adult in the child's life despite the daughter having many blood relatives, including her grandmother who had always been involved in her life and with whom he was also in contact with. I filed an Emergency Motion to Vacate the Temporary Custody Order and the boyfriend hired private counsel who filed motions to set aside the guardianships. At the hearing, I was successful in arguing that the order should be dismissed, and the Court entered an order dissolving the temporary custody and recognizing the appointment of the aunt as the legal guardian.

When I first became involved in this case, I searched for a 7th Circuit Administrative Orders which might provide direction as to priority for competing court orders (such as Guardianships over Temporary Custody orders); however, one did not exist. This case highlighted the importance of the unified family court system which requires all related cases to be assigned to the same judge. This allows one judge to hear all issues related to a family and ensures consistency in rulings. I conducted extensive research to determine what, if any, rights a person with no marriage or blood relation to a child may have regarding custody. I learned a lot from this case that continues to help me throughout my family law practice. I greatly enjoyed working with the guardianship attorneys and learning more about that area of law. The family, having already retained the guardian attorneys, were struggling financially; so, I took the case at a reduced rate with the agreement that the family could pay me once they were in a better financial position.

The Defendant in this matter was charged with Armed Burglary, punishable by life. I was the Assistant State Attorney on the case. This case has stayed with me because of the intensity of the 911 call and circumstances. On the morning of trial, the Judge advised the Defendant that he would take life off the table if he entered an open plea, which he did. The victim was a female in her 20s who was very small in stature, standing at five foot and two inches tall and weighing only 90 pounds. She lived alone in the home which she had purchased when she was just 23 years old. She was awoken in the middle of the night to the sound of someone breaking into her house and observed two grown men walking around inside. She testified at the sentencing hearing that she “crawled into the smallest possible ball” beside her bed to hide and called 911. I will never forget the first time I heard the 12-minute-long 911 call in which you hear the entire event unfold. You could hear the pure terror in her voice as she whispers to the operator that she is not in a safe place and begs them to hurry. In all whispers, you hear the victim live out a true nightmare as she details these men tearing through her house and eventually come into her bedroom. You hear the moment law enforcement breaks into her home and calls out for her. Upon searching, law enforcement found no one. Finally, they located both men, one hiding in the boxspring of the guest bed and the Defendant, hiding in the victim’s closet with a knife. Another knife was found outside the window which they shattered and made entry into the house. The Officer who found the Defendant testified at sentencing that even after 32 years of being a law enforcement officer, it was a scary incident for him. The victim suffered greatly from the incident, losing wight, confidence and security.

As the prosecutor, my goal was to ensure the victim could feel safe in her home again for as long as possible. The Defendant filed a Motion to Dismiss arguing the knife was not large enough to be labeled a deadly weapon, which I successfully argued against. The Defendant had two prior home invasion convictions and he scored only 61.36 months as the lowest permissible sentence. At sentencing, I secured a 20 year prison sentence. The Defendant appealed his twice and it was affirmed both times by the 5th District Court of Appeal.

This case is significant to me because it embodies the important work that the State Attorney's Office does for our community. This was the longest prison sentence I had obtained as a prosecutor and it ensured that a truly dangerous person was removed from our society for at least 20 years.

I represented the Respondent/Mother in this matter where the paternal grandmother filed a Petition for Temporary Custody by Extended Family to gain custody of my client's three youngest children. My client had limited funds and had attempted to handle the matter pro se before eventually contacting and hiring me. By the time I came onto the case, Ms. Kemper had not seen or spoken with her children in almost 3 months. The Court granted the grandmother's Petition against my client without ever holding a hearing contrary to Section 751.04 Fla. Stat., which explicitly requires biological parents to have reasonable notice and an opportunity to be heard. Additionally, the Court's Order used the "best interest of the child" standard in granting the paternal grandmother's Petition. Section 751.05 (3)(b) Fla. Stat. requires that there must be a finding, by clear and convincing evidence, that the parent is unfit to provide care and control based on abuse, abandonment, or neglect, as defined in Chapter 39. In an effort to avoid prolonging litigation, we proceeded with mediation, the appointment of a Guardian ad Litem and obtaining a psychological evaluation of my client. When it was clear that the paternal grandmother had no intention of returning the children to my client on any terms, I filed a Motion to Set Aside Temporary Order Granting Petition for Temporary Custody by Extended Family. My motion laid out the legal issues of how the Petition was improperly entered and documented the extensive work my client had been doing to better her life. Five days before the hearing on my Motion to Set Aside, opposing counsel filed a Notice of Voluntary Dismissal, and my client was fully reunited with her children.

This case made such an impact on me because my client had struggled to find relief from the court system since she could not afford an attorney and the paternal grandmother had counsel. Upon hearing her story, I knew I had to help so I took the case at a reduced rate. There was nothing my client wouldn't do to have her kids returned to her, and I was elated the day I got to make the call advising her she could bring them home for good. This matter highlights the importance of following statutes as written. Swift decisions by a court can have profound effects on the people before them. It also reminds me that while the courts cannot offer advice to pro se litigants, they are still entitled to proper notice, opportunity to be heard and accurate application of the law. Many citizens cannot afford private counsel and are forced to represent themselves even when they face legal matters that could result in losing custody of their children. I use this case as a reminder that pro bono and volunteer legal work is necessary in our community and incredibly rewarding.

This case was a jury trial in which I was the prosecutor. The Defendant was originally arrested for Robbery with Firearm, Accessory to 1st Degree Felony and Possession of Firearm by Convicted felon. A shooting had taken place, but the victims were uncooperative, so our office only filed Possession of Firearm. This case was a great lesson in finding the balance as a prosecutor between making your community safe and getting justice but ensuring that you have enough evidence to prove each crime charged beyond a reasonable doubt. The Defendant's scoresheet did not require mandatory prison, as charged. Prior to trial, I filed an amended information charging the Defendant with "actual" care, custody or control of a firearm pursuant to Section 775.087(2)(a) Fla. Stat., often referred to as the 10-20-Life statute, which then triggered a mandatory minimum 3-year sentence, if convicted. The Defendant had a prior conviction for possession of a firearm by convicted felon. If that prior possession of firearm had been charged as actual possession, then this subsequent possession would have secured a 10-year mandatory minimum. I also filed a Motion requesting the Defendant to submit to fingerprints so they could be compared by an expert, a Notice of Intent to Introduce Self Authenticating Records to introduce the Defendant's prior certified judgement and sentences, and a Notice of Intent to Introduce and Rely on Certified Business Records relating to the "gold seal"/clemency letter which I had requested from the Office of Executive Clemency. At trial, I suspected that the Defense attorneys would expect me to introduce the Defendant's statements through the law enforcement officer because he admitted to having the firearm on him. However, the Defendant's statements to the law enforcement officer were coupled with a self-defense argument. Therefore, I made a strategic legal decision not solicit any of the Defendant's statements from the law enforcement officer. My decision forced the defense to either forgo their self-defense argument or call the Defendant to the stand, subjecting him to cross-examination and introduction of his prior felonies. The Defendant did take the stand, and after deliberating for under 30 minutes, the jury returned a verdict for guilty as charged. The Defendant was sentenced to 42 months in prison with a 3-year mandatory minimum, meaning he must serve day for day and does not receive gain time. This trial developed my knowledge with FDLE fingerprint experts and strengthened my understanding of the “necessity” jury instruction. The case was also tried against two seasoned defense attorneys which is always an enriching experience. I believed this case was significant in my growth as a trial attorney and making strategic legal decisions.

My client in this case was a teacher at a local high school who had been charged with Offense Against Students by Authority Figure due to his relationship with one of his adult students. Based on the nature of the charge, the case drew media attention from several local news sources. After researching, I found case law that stated if the relationship had taken place when the teacher was not in his official capacity, such as not on school property and not while he was acting as her teacher, it may undermine the charge. In this instance, the victim was 18 years old at all times during their relationship, and the two never engaged in any type of sex. They also never exchanged any type of sexual messages. The relationship was also consensual. This case was significant to me because I was trying to obtain a fair result for my client while balancing the State and victim seeking consequences and the media watching closely. After a year of working on mitigation, taking depositions of the lead investigator, and presenting argument to the ASA, I was able to secure a plea agreement which kept my client from becoming a convicted felon and allowed him the option to early terminate probation after just 2.5 years. This case is meaningful because it demonstrated that presenting mitigation can sometimes garner better results for a client than immediately attacking with motion practice. It was a significant case for me because of the delicate nature of the allegations and navigating the media attention.

Provide citations and a brief summary of all of your orders or opinions where your decision was reversed by a reviewing court or where your judgment was affirmed with significant criticism of your substantive or procedural rulings. If any of the opinions listed were not officially reported, attach copies of the opinions.

N/A

28. Provide citations for significant opinions on federal or state constitutional issues, together with the citation to appellate court rulings on such opinions. If any of the opinions listed were not officially reported, attach copies of the opinions.

N/A

29. Has a complaint about you ever been made to the Judicial Qualifications Commission? If so, give the date, describe the complaint, whether or not there was a finding of probable cause, whether or not you have appeared before the Commission, and its resolution.

N/A

30. Have you ever held an attorney in contempt? If so, for each instance state the name of the attorney, case style for the matter in question, approximate date and describe the circumstances.

N/A

31. Have you ever held or been a candidate for any other public office? If so, state the office, location, dates of service or candidacy, and any election results.

No.

NON-LEGAL BUSINESS INVOLVEMENT

32. If you are now an officer, director, or otherwise engaged in the management of any business enterprise, state the name of such enterprise, the nature of the business, the nature of your duties, and whether you intend to resign such position immediately upon your appointment or election to judicial office.

I am the registered agent and a 50% shareholder of RUDD-HUNT, LLC, which is a limited liability company established for the purpose of owning real estate. Upon appointment or election to judicial office I would immediately resign, if required.

33. Since being admitted to the Bar, have you ever engaged in any occupation, business or profession other than the practice of law? If so, explain and provide dates. If you received any compensation of any kind outside the practice of law during this time, please list the amount of compensation received.

No.

POSSIBLE BIAS OR PREJUDICE

34. The Commission is interested in knowing if there are certain types of cases, groups of entities, or extended relationships or associations which would limit the cases for which you could sit as the presiding judge. Please list all types or classifications of cases or litigants for which you, as a general proposition, believe it would be difficult for you to sit as the presiding judge. Indicate the reason for each situation as to why you believe you might be in conflict. If you have prior judicial experience, describe the types of cases from which you have recused yourself.

There are no classifications of cases or litigants to which I believe it would be difficult for me to sit as the presiding judge. If appointed, I would recuse myself on any case containing any of the grounds for disqualification cited in Rule 2.330, Fla. R. Gen. Prac. & Jud. Admin., including any cause relating to or represented by individual members of my family. My brother, Ruddy Smith, and my father, Horace Smith, are both practicing attorneys who take cases in the 7th Circuit. I would recuse myself in these situations. I would be unable to preside over any matters in which a party is represented by Smith Bigman Brock (where I am currently employed) for at least two years due to the conflict or appearance of conflict from a financial relationship.

No.

44. Please describe any significant pro bono legal work you have done in the past 10 years, giving dates of service.

I volunteer at Community Legal Services. In November 2025, I volunteered at their Volusia Sealing and Expungement Clinic where our efforts impacted 197 individuals/families in our community. I was also recognized by Community Legal Services as their Pro Bono Attorney of the Month in February 2026.

While practicing at Smith Bigman Brock, I have provided consultations and assistance to those without means to obtain representation. I have prepared wills, represented clients in divorces and child custody matters and given general legal advice without charging a fee. Often, when an individual cannot afford to hire me, I will assist them with the forms available from the Clerk's office and walk them through the process. I have done this numerous times with injunctions and dissolutions of marriage. A couple instances stand out for me personally. I represented the wife in Lona Oxford v. Brian Oxford, 2023 11159 FMDL. Ms. Oxford reached out for help obtaining a divorce from her husband. She had suffered from a stroke 5 years earlier which left her partially paralyzed. Due to her disability, she could not work or afford an attorney. I took the case at no charge to Ms. Oxford and finalized her divorce shortly thereafter. In case 2024 10486 FMCI, I helped a family obtain legal custody of their previous foster daughter when the biological mother was arrested and never returned for the child. I did not charge a fee for that matter and have promised to help with future adoption, pro bono.

I am also on the local list for Guardian ad Litem appointment at a reduced and/or pro bono rate. I have been appointed in one case in which I have dedicated over 30 hours of work at no charge to the parties.

45. Please describe any hobbies or other vocational interests.

Spending time with my family is my primary focus. I am an avid inshore fisher and enjoy being on the water. I have grown up hunting and love exploring State and National Parks.

46. Please state whether you have served or currently serve in the military, including your dates of service, branch, highest rank, and type of discharge.

I have not served in the military.

No.

69. Have you ever refused to submit to a test to determine whether you had consumed and/or were under the influence of alcohol or drugs? If so, please state the date you were requested to submit to such a test, the type of test required, the name of the entity requesting that you submit to the test, the outcome of your refusal, and the reason why you refused to submit to such a test.

No.

70. In the past ten years, have you suffered memory loss or impaired judgment for any reason? If so, please explain in full.

No.

SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION

71. Describe any additional education or experiences you have which could assist you in holding judicial office.

I have had a number of varying experiences, both small and large, that have significantly impacted me as an attorney and would remain with me as a judge. As a prosecutor practicing in my hometown, I often encountered people with whom I went to school or knew of. It gave perspective that Defendants are more than just what you read in a police report. They are also members of our community and people who need help. At one point, I was assigned to Volusia County's Eastside DUI Court. Judge Judy Campbell (retired) treated all the Defendant participants with respect and dignity. It was significant to see the State Attorney's Office, Public Defender's Office, Probation, treatment providers and judges work together to implement and run such an impactful program. I was also involved with Volusia County's Veterans Court, another specialty program designed to help criminal defendants who have served our Country. This program provided treatment through the VA tailored towards veterans at no cost to them. I value my experiences with these courts, and they provided me with a community-forward perspective that I would take with me to the bench.

As a law student, I completed my externship at the Department of Children and Families and attended my first trial, a termination of parental rights hearing due to the Father's current incarceration, substance abuse and neglect of his children. The mother had died of cancer, which triggered the Father's relapse. The Father testified about his progress and efforts to comply with the case plan. He sobbed and pleaded for his children. It was clear he loved his kids, but that was not the questions at hand nor the legal standard. The Father's rights were terminated, and the children were entered into foster care. It was certainly no easy task for the judge that day, but she followed her oath and the law. I use this experience as a reminder that rulings must be made in accordance with the law and not based on emotion. There is often a difference between what a judge wants the outcome to be and what the law requires, a tough but important reminder.

I have attended numerous educational conferences that would assist me in judicial office. As a prosecutor, I attended the Florida Prosecuting Attorney's Association educational conference. I have attended the Martial Family Law Review Course for the last 5 years. During my stint practicing insurance defense, I attended the Florida Liability Claims Conference. Each of these conferences are multiple-day educational events which offer extensive training materials and CLE credits. These conferences demonstrate the diversity of my legal practice and training, which would be paramount as a judge.

Undoubtedly, my most influential experience has been working with my father, Horace Smith. He embodies hard work and humility. For over 58 years he has dedicated his life to the practice of law, and he has imparted on me the value of integrity and a strong work ethic. His veracity for respecting the word as written is something I emulate and will carry with me.

72. Explain the particular contribution you believe your selection would bring to this position and provide any additional information you feel would be helpful to the Commission and Governor in evaluating your application.

I have immense respect for the rule of law and the role of the courts. I have intentionally expanded my legal practice in an effort to diversify my legal knowledge, but I am humble with the understanding that there is always work to be done. I recognize the importance of judicial efficiency and I am committed to resolving matters expeditiously.

As a lifelong resident of Volusia County, I value this community and I am eager to see it thrive. I was raised here and I chose to raise my family here. Throughout my career, I have helped many people in different ways through the court system. As a prosecutor, I found great joy in helping victims and their families find some form of justice. In family law, I have helped clients get their children back and ensured they were adequately protected during a divorce. Serving my community has always been at the heart of my career. It would be the highest honor to continue to serve the community that has always served me, in the role as judge.

MOTION TO SET ASIDE TEMPORARY ORDER GRANTING PETITION FOR TEMPORARY CUSTODY BY EXTENDED FAMILY

COMES NOW, Respondent/Mother, AMY KEMPER, by and through her undersigned counsel and files this Motion to Set Aside Temporary Order Granting Petition for Temporary Custody By Extended Family and will show as follows:

1. On or about November 13, 2023, Petitioner filed a Petition for Temporary Custody by Extended Family (Dkt 9).
2. On or about November 13, 2023, Petitioner also filed a "Motion for Emergency Full Custody" (Dkt 10) in the same matter.
3. On November 13, 2023, the Court entered an Order (Dkt 11) ruling that the Petitioner's Emergency Motion (Dkt 10) was not an emergency and that the matter may be called upon for hearing once service had been rendered.
4. Though the Petitioner never requested a summons and never properly served the Mother/Respondent, Respondent filed a Response on November 15, 2023, objecting to the Petition for Temporary Custody (Dkt 12).
5. Despite the Respondent's objection and previous Court ruling that the matter was not an emergency and shall be set for hearing, the Court then entered a Temporary Order Granting Petition for Temporary Custody by Extended Family (Dkt 13), herein after referred to as “Temporary Order”, on November 16, 2023.

6. The Temporary Order states that this case came before the Court for review upon the Motion for Emergency Full Custody filed by Petitioner on November 13, 2023 and the Responses and Objections filed by the Respondent/Mother on November 12<sup>1</sup>, 2023 and that the Court reviewed the file and made the following findings (in part):

a. The Mother had not yet been served but filed a response, the Father currently resided in the Flagler County Jail and that it was “in the best interest of the children” for the Petitioner to have interim temporary custody until the parties have been served and this matter may be set for a final hearing. (emphasis added)

7. To date, the Mother/Respondent has still never been properly served in this matter.

8. Also, the UCCJEA Affidavit as filed by Petitioner, is insufficient as it does not reflect the dates, addresses and persons living with the children for the past 5 years and only provided a current address, that of the Petitioner.

9. Petitioner’s “Motion for Emergency Full Custody” (Dkt 10), which the Court relied on to award Petitioner temporary custody of the minor children, cites no legal statute or rule of procedure in which it seeks relief from the Court under. The “Motion for Emergency Full Custody” in itself does not authorize the Court jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter therein. Further, the Court does not reference the Petitioner’s Petition for Temporary Custody by Extended Family Member in the Temporary Order as a basis for entering the Temporary Order.

10. Petitioner’s Petition for Temporary Custody by Extended Family is governed by Florida Statutes, Chapter 751 and has specific requirements that must be met and adhered to.

11. Specifically, Florida Statute 751.04 addresses notice and opportunity to be heard and states “[b]efore a decree is made under this chapter, reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard must be given to the parents of the minor child by service of process, either personal or constructive.” (emphasis added)

12. Florida Statute 751.05 (1) directly follows and states “[a]t the hearing on the petition for temporary or concurrent custody, the court must hear the evidence concerning a minor

<sup>1</sup> It should be noted the Court’s Order inaccurately states the Respondent/Mother’s Responses and Objections were filed November 12, 2023, and that they were actually filed on November 15, 2023.

child's need for care by the petitioner, all other matters required to be set forth in the petition, and the objections or other testimony of the child's parents, if present." (emphasis added)

13. Florida Statute 751.05 (3)(b) further states if one of the minor child's parents objects to "[t]he petition for temporary custody, the court shall grant the petition only upon a finding, by clear and convincing evidence, that the child's parent or parents are unfit to provide for the care and control of the child. In determining that a parent is unfit, the court must find that the parent has abused, abandoned, or neglected the child, as defined in chapter 39." (emphasis added)

14. Though the Court acknowledged that Mother/Respondent objected to the Petition for Temporary Custody in her response filed November 15, 2023, and originally found that the matter was not an emergency and should be set for hearing, the Court then entered an Order just three days later granting Petitioner with temporary custody without holding a hearing and providing Mother/Respondent a full opportunity to be heard on the matter.

15. In Glockson v. Manna, 711 So.2d 1332 (Fla. 2d DCA1998), the appellate court reversed a trial court's award of temporary custody after an initial ex parte order was entered granting the aunt temporary custody over the objection of the father. The court noted the trial court's order failed to include factual findings of any kind and that the sparse record provided no basis upon which a finding might be predicated. It further stated that the parents were not afforded a full opportunity to be heard on the matter (despite a record of one hearing). The court then cautions that "[c]are should be taken by trial courts utilizing chapter 751 when entering custody orders over the objection of biological parents, or simply without their consent, to observe the fundamental procedural safeguards accorded biological parents in dependency proceedings, including, most critically, notice and an opportunity to be heard."

16. In the matter at hand, the Court entered an Order granting temporary custody to Petitioner, over Mother/Respondent's objection and without a hearing to be fully heard on that matter but also states no factual findings of any kind upon which the finding was predicated.

17. In Dubois v. Leon, 12 So. 3d 280, 281 (Fla. 5th DCA 2009), the court reversed a nonfinal order awarding temporary custody of the minor to the maternal grandparents because "it was apparent from the face of the order that the trial court erroneously applied the best interests standard, rather than the applicable clear and convincing standard, when reviewing the evidence." (emphasis added). The court notes that Florida Statute 751.05, specifically states that if one of the minor child's parents objects to the granting of temporary custody to the petitioner, the court shall only grant the petition upon a finding, by clear and convincing evidence, that the parent or parents are unfit to provide the care and control of the child and that in determining that a parent is unfit, the court must find that the parent has abused, abandoned or neglected the child, as defined in chapter 39.

18. In the case at hand, the Court also erroneously only included that it was in the best interest of the children, sighted no findings of abuse, abandonment or neglect and made no rulings finding Mother/Respondent unfit as a parent.

19. Mother/Respondent motioned the Court to return her minor children on January 3, 2024 in her Amended Motion for Custody to be Returned (Dkt 30) which was set for a hearing February 2, 2024, along with Mother/Respondent's Motion for Supervised Visits and Phone Calls and a Motion for Grandparent Visits. This would have been the first hearing in which the Court would have given the Mother/Petitioner an opportunity to be heard.

20. After notice had been issued for Mother/Respondent's three (3) motions to be heard on February 2, 2024, Petitioner proceeded to file a Motion for Psychological Evaluation (Dkt 34) and Motion for Appointment of Guardian Ad Litem (Dkt 35). Petitioner then filed a Notice of Hearing unilaterally adding her motions to be heard at the already scheduled hearing date of February 2, 2024, yet Petitioner did not seek any additional time for the hearing from the Court.

21. On January 25, 2024, the Court then entered an Order on all matters set for the February 2 hearing and canceled the hearing. The Order stated and ruled (in part) as follows:

- a. The February 2, 2024 hearing was cancelled due to the time limitations of the Court.
- b. Immediate progress could be made on the motions without further court intervention.
- c. The parties needed to work together and communicate as this is not an action to terminate parental rights.
- d. Mother/Respondent's Motion for supervised visits and phone calls was granted.
- e. Mother/Respondent's Motion for grandparent visitation was granted.
- f. Mother/Respondent's Motion for custody to be returned was denied.
- g. Petitioner's Motion for to appoint a Guardian ad litem was granted.

- h. Petitioner's Motion for psychological evaluation was granted.
- i. The parties were referred to mediation.

22. A biological parent's rights to their children is one of, if not the, most highly protected areas in Florida law. Chapter 751 of Florida Statutes and all caselaw regarding temporary custody has strict procedures, none of which have been followed in this matter. It has been six (6) months since the Court entered an order removing Mother/Respondent's minor children from her care and control over her objection, and the Court has still held no hearing, heard no testimony, seen no evidence and made no findings that Mother/Respondent is unfit to provide for the care and control of her children due to abuse, abandonment, or neglect of the children, as defined in Chapter 39.

23. There has been no hearing held, no testimony and no evidence presented to the Court in which the Court could make a finding to support the granting of a psychological evaluation against Petitioner and imposing the costs of said evaluation on her. Further, the Court ruled that Mother/Respondent could not utilize an examiner at Project Warm, the inpatient treatment facility in which she was enrolled, and stated no basis or findings for such a ruling.

24. There has been no hearing held, no testimony and no evidence presented to the Court in which the Court could make a finding to support the granting of guardian ad litem to be appointed.

25. Despite the Court's rulings, Mother/Respondent has complied with the Orders in an attempt to gain back her custodial rights and show that she is a fit parent to care for her children.

26. Mother/Respondent voluntarily entered into an inpatient rehabilitation facility 2 months prior to the Petition for Temporary Custody being filed on September 25, 2023. In fact, Mother/Respondent specifically sought out and chose a rehab facility that catered to mothers with young children and which provides for and allows mothers to house their minor children with them at the facility. Project Warm, the inpatient rehab facility that Mother/Respondent attended, is highly regarded in the community and regularly utilized by the local courts for court-ordered treatment. Project Warm not only addresses substance abuse but also mental health and parenting/family strengthening, among others aspects of wellness. Mother/Respondent had already been sober, attending meetings and created a care plan for her children with Project Warm months before the Petition for Temporary Custody was even filed but was never afforded the opportunity to be heard on her fitness as parent prior to the Court entering the Temporary Order. While at Project Warm, Mother/Respondent:

- a. Was a “model participant” with zero (0) behavioral infractions and received 14 rewards. See attached Discharge Summary as Exhibit A and a few of the “Rewards” as Exhibit B.
- b. Was Project Warm’s first participant to return to work and maintain her sobriety throughout treatment. She completed the program testing negative on all her urinalysis.
- c. Joined the culinary team and was selected by the Chef to become one of two team leads.
- d. Was attentive and actively engaged in all her individual and group counseling sessions, was receptive to therapeutic interventions and feedback from staff and was cooperative and compliant.
- e. Phased up on all of her target dates, worked with a sponsor and spiritual advisor, attended AA and NA meetings on and off site and completed her offsite passes.
- f. Demonstrated her ability to implement and utilize adaptive coping strategies and actively participated in “Kiddie Calls” with all four of her children.
- g. Attended 27 individual counseling sessions, 88 drug screens, 9 parenting class groups, 10 relapse prevention groups, 45 AA/NA meetings, 47 life skill classes, 112 process groups, 148 recovery groups, 76 vocation groups, and 38 occupational therapy sessions among other classes. See attached Discharge Summary with list of services as Exhibit C.
- h. Completed the following courses in the Living the Protective Framework (see attached certificate as Exhibit D:
  - i. Introduction to the Protective Factors Framework
  - ii. Parental Resilience
  - iii. Social Connections
  - iv. Knowledge of Parenting and Child Development
  - v. Concrete Support in Times of Need
  - vi. Social & Emotion Competence of Children
  - vii. Bringing it All Together

i. Completed 3Ts Digital Tool course. See attached certificate as Exhibit E.

27. Mother/Respondent completed her residential treatment at Project Warm on April 2, 2024. See attached certificate as Exhibit F.

28. Mother/Respondent completed her evaluation with Dr. Riaz Rahman (selected by Petitioner's counsel) and within his report stated that "[a]s a mother, she does have the right to take care of her children, and she should be given that task and opportunity as soon as possible." (emphasis added). The full evaluation report of Dr. Riaz Rahman was previously filed with the Court on April 4, 2024 and is docket number 48.

29. While enrolled in residential treatment, Mother/Respondent earned the ability to leave the facility and return to work. Mother/Respondent is a certified nail technician and has returned to her former employer Nail Bar 103, located at 50 Plaza Drive, Palm Coast, Florida, where she works full time and earns an income sufficient to support herself and her children and maintain their current daycare facility and needs.

30. Mother/Respondent continues to focus on maintaining her sobriety and voluntarily enrolled in outpatient treatment upon her release from Project Warm. She attends Stewart Marchman and sees a counselor once a week, per their recommendation. She has completed six (6) of her twelve (12) recommended sessions. She is drug tested every week during these sessions and has always tested negative. She is set to complete outpatient treatment next month in June. See attached Stewart Marchman records as Exhibit G.

31. Mother/Respondent also reports to probation once per month since October 2023 and has never once tested positive or violated in any way.

32. Mother/Respondent has no pending DCF case plans or safety plans involving her or any of her children.

33. Mother/Respondent actively participates in her three youngest children's lives as much as possible. She takes every opportunity for calls, facetimes, and visits. She sends diapers, wipes, clothes and food with the Petitioner when possible.

34. Mother/Respondent owns her own house located at [REDACTED] Florida. It has 3 bedrooms. The children have their own space and bedrooms. There is backyard for the children to play. This is the only home the three minor children had lived at since birth. She is current in her mortgage on the home.

35. Mother/Respondent owns her own car and has sufficient car seats for all the children and took a class on proper installation of car seats.

36. Mother/Respondent does not diminish the severity of her actions which lead to her arrest in September 2023. However, she would point out that she had no prior criminal history, no prior substance abuse issues and has taken nothing but steps forward since that day. Additionally, it should be noted that the minor children in this matter were not involved nor present during that incident.

37. On the other hand, Petitioner has shown no efforts to move forward with supporting the reunification of Mother/Respondent and her minor children. Petitioner refused to allow Mother to have even supervised phone calls with the children until the Court ordered her to do so. Petitioner refused to allow the children's maternal grandparents, who have helped raise them and who have always maintained a close and continued relationship with them, to have any contact with the children until the Court ordered her to do. Petitioner has cancelled phone conferences or not answered timely despite the times being specified. Petitioner has cancelled visits and not offered additional make up days. Petitioner attempted to record supervised visits against Project Warm policy.

38. Petitioner has still not hired a Guardian ad Litem, despite her own request for such and stating that it would be in the children's best interest and the Court granting said request almost four (4) months ago. The Court did not order a timeframe or order coordination of GAL with Mother/Respondent despite giving Mother/Respondent only ten (10) days to find evaluator independent of Project Warm for her psychological evaluation (and coming up with the hundreds of dollars to pay for said evaluation) and ensuring that it was approved by Petitioner.

39. Thomas Carboni, the Petitioner's son and the Father/Respondent in this matter, lives with Petitioner and thereby the minor children. Father/Respondent consented to the temporary custody of Petitioner but was still ordered not to have any unsupervised contact with the minor children. Because Father/Respondent lives with Petitioner, his contact with the minor children is daily. The Court, however, only permitted Mother/Respondent to have a minimum of 2 supervised, 1 hour visits per week. This was a minimum requirement and Mother/Respondent has consistently asked to see the children more frequently but Petitioner has never once permitted additional visitation time or additional phone calls. Petitioner has also never allowed the maternal grandparents additional visitation or time outside the minimum set by the Court and refused to facilitate the minor children having visits with their older sibling who is not a party to this suit.

40. Father/Respondent is currently on felony probation and sentenced to Drug Court because he previously violated the terms of his felony drug possession probation. Father/Respondent continues to fail his UA's in drug court and has been sanctioned, placed on "B Team" and even sentenced to jail time as a result. These violations have occurred while Father/Respondent has been living with Petitioner and the minor children having unlimited "supervised" contact. See attached court action forms from case 2021 CF 000980 as Exhibit H.

41. At the Petitioner's residence, none of the minor children involved in this case have their own room. A total of ten (10) people live in Petitioner's house, including seven (7) adults. The two youngest children sleep in the living room, one in a crib, one in a play pen, where Father/Respondent also sleeps on the couch. The 3 year old sleeps in a shared room with Petitioner and her husband, Brian.

42. Father/Respondent has also been seen alone with the minor children at the UA testing facility.

43. In the Court's December 5th Order (Dkt 22), the Court seemingly makes findings based on "facts" related to a criminal case of the Mother. However, the Court makes no reference to what criminal case, what facts or how those facts come to be presented to him since no hearing has ever been held. Mother/Respondent can only assume that the Court refers to her arrest in September 2023. What is important to note from that incident is that the child involved is not a party to this action and in fact this same Court had granted Mother/Respondent timesharing again with that child.

a. In case 2014 DR 000682, this Court had previously awarded the father of Mother/Respondent's oldest child (who is not part of this action), emergency temporary full custody on September 12, 2023.

b. On November 28, 2023, this Court adopted the recommendations of the General Magistrate in case 2014 DR 000682, which approved an Amended Parenting Plan and awarded Mother/Respondent timesharing with her oldest child (the only one involved in her arrest incident).

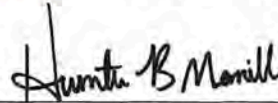

c. It should be noted that the timesharing with that child is unsupervised with no special requirements. Therefore, this Court has essentially already ruled that Mother/Respondent is a fit enough parent to have timesharing with her eldest minor child in which she was charged with criminal neglect of.

WHEREFORE, Mother/Respondent respectfully requests the Court immediately enter an order setting aside the Temporary Order Granting Petition for Temporary Custody By Extended Family and set the Petition for Temporary Custody for a hearing as required by statute.

Attorney for Respondent/Mother

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT,
SEVENTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT,
IN AND FOR VOLUSIA COUNTY, FLORIDA

CASE NO: 2020 303305 CFDB

STATE OF FLORIDA

MARK LEONDRE PUGH,

STATE'S TRAVERSE TO DEFENDANT'S MOTION TO DISMISS

COMES NOW, R.J. Larizza, State Attorney for the Seventh Judicial Circuit of Florida, by and through the undersigned Assistant State Attorney files this traverse to Defendant's Motion to Dismiss requesting this Honorable court to summarily deny Defendant's motion pursuant to Florida Rule of Criminal Procedure 3.190(d), and as grounds therefore would show as follows:

FACTS

The "Facts" section of Opposing Counsel's Motion was not enumerated and as such the State will DENY line 3 of that paragraph and present additional facts. According to the report written by Deputy Leven, he "activated his emergency lights and siren on his marked VCSO patrol vehicle.." The patrol vehicle driven by Deputy Leven has reflective decals and insignia of Volusia County Sheriff's Office, includes lights and sirens and a county vehicle license plate.

LEGAL ARGUMENT

First, Opposing Counsel relied on case law for in his "Argument" section. The State would contend this section contains rules derived from an analysis of a case that cannot be taken as fact. Additionally, Opposing Counsel improperly defines the crime of "Fleeing or Attempting to Elude a Law Enforcement Officer" and as such the State denies this assertion.

As defined by Florida Statute 316.1935, "Fleeing or Attempting to Elude a Law Enforcement Officer" is broken down into multiple sections, each section indicating more elements that make the crime more severe. As explained in Gorsuch v. State, 797 So. 2d 649, 651 (Fla. Dist. Ct. App. 2001), the Court goes through the analysis of each section of the Fleeing/Attempting to Elude Florida Statute. In that case, the Court finds that the Defendant's argument for conviction under section 316.1935(3) should be reversed and the cause remanded with instructions to reduce that conviction to a violation of section 316.1935(1) because there was no evidence that the police vehicles had agency insignia and other jurisdictional markings. An identical ruling was made in Erschine v. State, 23 So. 3d 1207, 1208 (Fla. Dist. Ct. App.

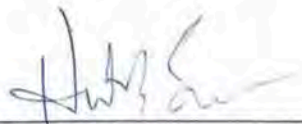

2009), where the Court again found that the conviction should be reduced to the 3rd degree felony under section 316.1935(1) rather than section 316.1935(3). See also Slack v. State, 30 So. 3d 684, 685 (Fla. Dist. Ct. App. 2010), where the Court remands the case for a conviction under section 316.1935(1) after a convicted under section 316.1935(2) where there was no evidence of agency insignia during a fleeing stop. The Court goes through an analysis of section 316.1935(1) being the lesser included offense of section 316.1935(2). This is a common theme throughout caselaw, see also: Sanner v. State, 63 So. 3d 934 (Fla. Dist. Ct. App. 2011).

Further, in the dissenting opinion of Ellis v. State, 258 So. 3d 491, 495 (Fla. Dist. Ct. App. 2018), the Court specifically states “The basic fleeing/eluding charge in subsection (1) of the statute does not require that the officer be in a law enforcement vehicle or that pursuit by such vehicle occur. Instead, it makes it unlawful “for the operator of any vehicle, having knowledge that he or she has been ordered to stop such vehicle by a duly authorized law enforcement officer, willfully to refuse or fail to stop the vehicle in compliance with such order” or “having stopped in knowing compliance with such order, willfully to flee in an attempt to elude the officer[.]” § 316.1935(1), Fla. Stat. In contrast, subsections (2) and (3) limit themselves to fleeing/eluding law enforcement officers who are physically inside a specifically-defined subset of police vehicles. Under subsection (2), it is unlawful for a person to flee or attempt to elude a law enforcement officer while that officer is “in an authorized law enforcement patrol vehicle, with agency insignia and other jurisdictional markings prominently displayed on the vehicle, with siren and lights activated,” which is a third degree felony. Id. § 316.1935(2). Similarly, subsection (3)(a)—under which Ellis was charged—makes it unlawful to engage in the criminal conduct defined in subsection (2), if the person “[d]rives at high speed, or in any manner which demonstrates a wanton disregard for the safety of persons or property[.]” Id. § 316.1935(3)(a). Such conduct is punishable as a second degree felony. A person who knowingly flees a police officer violates subsection (1), but not subsections (2) or (3), which require proof that the officer is in the statutorily-defined law enforcement vehicle.”

While the State contends that a Motion to Dismiss brought under Florida Rule of Criminal Procedure 3.190(c)(4) is not the proper vehicle to challenge the issue of Opposing Counsel's interpretation of the Florida Statute for Fleeing/Attempting to Elude, there are material factual allegations denied above to overcome the C4 standard. The State would also contend the argument presented would be with merit to survive any Motion to Suppress and/or Dismiss that should flow from such motion.

The State is prepared to present additional testimony and caselaw by way of oral argument.

WHEREFORE, the State moves this Honorable Court to deny the Defendant's Motion to Dismiss.

MEMORANDUM OF LAW IN SUPPORT OF
PLAINTIFF'S MOTION TO STRIKE AND
NOTICE OF FILING CASELAW

COMES NOW, Plaintiff, HORACE SMITH, JR., P.A., by and through the undersigned counsel and files this Memorandum of Law in Support of Plaintiff's Motion to Strike and states as follows:

1. Defendant's affirmative defenses in paragraphs 18, 20, 23, and 25, should be stricken because they fail to meet the pleading requirements of Fla. R. Civ. P. 1.140, which requires the affirmative defenses to state "specific and with particularity" ... "the grounds on which the enumerated defenses are based and the substantial matters of law intended to be argued" or are otherwise legally insufficient as a matter of law.
2. "A properly pled affirmative defense includes ultimate facts sufficient to provide notice of the proof the defendant intends to rely upon to defeat the plaintiff's claim." South

Florida Coastal Elec., Inc. v. Treasures on Bay II Condo Ass'n., 89 So.3d 264, 266 (Fla. 3d DCA 2012).

3. “As in plaintiff’s statement of claim, the requirement of certainty will be insisted upon the pleading of a defense; and the certainty required is that the pleader must set forth the facts in such a manner as to reasonably inform his adversary of what is proposed to be proved in order to provide the latter with a fair opportunity to meet it and prepare his evidence.” Zito v. Washington Federal Sav. And Loan Ass’n of Miami Beach, 318 So. 2d 175, 176 (Fla. 3d DCA 1975). See also Walker v. Walker, 254 So.2d 832 (Fla. 1st DCA 1971).
4. Because the affirmative defenses fail to assert any supporting facts and are therefore legally insufficient pure conclusions of law, and without the requisite facts to support these affirmative defenses, Plaintiffs must guess at the basis for these defenses and are not sufficiently on notice as to what Defendant proposes to prove. Therefore, Plaintiffs are unable to prepare an appropriate reply to the affirmative defenses.
5. Defendant’s affirmative defenses in paragraphs 19, 24, and 32, are legally insufficient where Defendant fails to articulate how Plaintiffs have breached the agreement and are rather a mere denial of facts contained within the complaint and are not affirmative defenses and should be stricken. See Gatt v. Keyes Corp., 446 So.2d 211, 212 (Fla. 3d DCA 1984) (holding that an affirmative defense was properly stricken where it simply denied facts contained in the complaint and did not raise any new matters to defeat the complaint.). Further, Rule 1.140(f) supports a motion to strike should be granted “if material is wholly irrelevant, can have no bearing on the equities and no influence on the decision” See Pentecostal Holiness Church, Inc. v. Mauney, 270 So.2d 762, 769 (Fla. 4th DCA 1972).

6. It is unclear in paragraphs 22, 24, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 35, 36, what exactly Defendant's affirmative defenses are. Rather, Defendant merely states various complaints and an overall dissatisfaction of services; therefore, his "defenses" are inadequately pled and must be stricken. See also Jelic v. CitiMortgage, Inc., 150 So.3d 1223 (Fla. 4th DCA 2014) (holding that generic claims which fail to allege any particularized conduct are insufficient to assert a claim.). Further, Rule 1.140(f) supports a motion to strike should be granted "if material is wholly irrelevant, can have no bearing on the equities and no influence on the decision" See Pentecostal Holiness Church, Inc. v. Mauney, 270 So.2d 762, 769 (Fla. 4th DCA 1972).
7. There are no facts alleged which would explain which, if any, duties Plaintiff allegedly failed to perform, how Plaintiff's conduct was allegedly misleading or what contractual or equitable precedent were unfulfilled. Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. v. Williamson, 199 So.3d 1031, 1035 (Fla. 4th DCA 2016).
8. Defendant fails to state with specificity what condition precedents may be unmet, should that be what his defense is attempting to purport. Therefore, any defenses where that is the alleged argument is waived. See Saavedra v. Universal Property & Casualty Insurance Company, 314 So. 3d 729, 731 (Fla. 5th DCA 2021).
9. Defendant's paragraphs 21 and 26, are merely general statements and not legal affirmative defenses. Similarly, paragraphs 33 and 34, are generalized unrelated hearsay or opinion and do not present a valid legal defense. Mere denial of facts contained within the complaint and are not affirmative defenses and should be stricken. See Gatt v. Keyes Corp., 446 So.2d 211, 212 (Fla. 3d DCA 1984). Further, Rule 1.140(f) supports a motion to strike should be granted "if material is wholly irrelevant, can have no bearing on the equities and no influence on the decision” See Pentecostal Holiness Church, Inc. v. Mauney, 270 So.2d 762, 769 (Fla. 4th DCA 1972).

10. Fla. R. Civ. P. 1.140 (f) provides that a motion to strike may be used to seek an order from the court striking any pleading, ‘any insufficient defense’ or ‘any redundant, immaterial, or impertinent, or scandalous matter’. See Chris Craft Indus., Inc. v. Van Valkenberg, 267 So. 2d 642, 645 (Fla. 4th DCA 1972).
11. Defendant’s affirmative defenses should be stricken as redundant or immaterial because they are wholly irrelevant and have no bearing on the equities and no influence at all on the decision in this matter. See Bay Colony Office Bldg. Joint Venture v. Wachovia Mortg. Co., 342 So.2d 1005 (Fla. 4th DCA 1977).
12. In the course of all Defendant’s affirmative defenses, the Defendant fails to allege facts which meet any elements of a defense and therefore each of his defenses should be stricken. They do not constitute an affirmative defense under Rule 1.110, Rules of Civil Procedure.
