Subject: RE: Public Record Request - Ms. Cristina March

Date: Mon, 18 Nov 2019 15:57:55 +0000 (11/18/2019 10:57:55 AM)

One of the documents provided in the PRR shows that Ms. March was offered an apology on two separate occasions (04/09/2019 and 04/19/2019). As the Chief of Police, it is my responsibility to apologize when we get something wrong and I accept full responsibility for the error. To the best of my knowledge, there are no other public records that address this particular request.

Understood - the city clerk provides the records, ... and the police department would be the point of contact regarding our question whether Ms. Bartolucci ever offered Ms. March an apology for blocking her (March's) access to the city's social media account. (cc. Police Chief Mike Coffin)

As far as the PRR - yes it does (complete our request)

As far as addressing our question on whether Ms. Bartolucci offered Ms. March an apology for blocking her social media access, it does NOT. But, it is what it is.

Chief / Ms. Bolinsky

We (VolusiaExposed.Com) are currently preparing an article regarding the criminal prosecution of Ms. Cristina March.

<http://volusiaexposed.com/nsbpd/cristinamarch112019.html>

We wish to secure, via this public record request (PRR), a copy of an April 8, 2019 Memo (PD-0125) prepared by Cayla G. Bartolucci to Carol Hargy, HR Director. The subject of this memo would have been Ms. Bartolucci's concerns of being harassed and defamed by Ms. March.

It's our understanding that this document is over 200 pages long. Our PRR is for ONLY the memo's initial narrative pages (believe to be two (2) pages of text) - and not for the supportive attached documents.

Our rationale for this PRR, is to assure the validity of this document, for incorporation, as a whole, into our pending article.

Please advise us in advance of any costs that are associated with this PRR, by using our below email address as our point of contact.

If we may inquire, did Ms. Bartolucci ever apologize to Ms. March for "blocking" her from the city's social media site? (see paragraph 4 of the linked VCSO Citizen Complaint Form)

<http://volusiaexposed.com/nsbpd/cristinamarch112019/citizencomplaintfindings.pdf>

Some citizens, especially those who opt to exercise their U.S. Constitutional right to protest their government, can get quickly offended, when their rights are violated by government officials. These individuals (citizens) are further known to rightfully get further offended, if that government official(s) does not immediately correct, and APOLOGIZE for the error / offense.

Sometimes, government officials would rather devote their time and energy, in preparing a 200 pages document, while wasting law enforcement and court resources, then to simply offer an apology.

Surely, that is not the case here.

We look forward to our requested record.

Regards,
